

Safe Environments.
Healthy Workers.

Personal Safety Response System

What you need to know.

Personal Safety Response System (PSRS) is an important part of a workplace violence prevention program to protect workers from harm.

PSRS includes communication devices and procedural best practices that can summon immediate assistance where workplace violence occurs or is likely to occur. Follow your organization's policies and use the equipment provided. Trained personnel must be available to receive and respond to the PSRS alert.

For more information visit workplace-violence.ca

THE LAW

Workplaces must have measures and procedures to summon immediate assistance where workplace violence occurs or is likely to occur.

Occupational Health and Safety Act S.32.0.2(2)